Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Okamoto et al. Okamoto et al. discloses a door for a vehicle, comprising an outer panel 1, an inner panel 2 attached to the outer panel, the inner panel having a central opening (not numbered, but shown in figure 1) defined by an inner edge (not numbered, but shown in figures 1 and 3 as at least the portion of the inner panel 2 which includes the groove 7), a base plate 12 to which at least a window regulator module 31 is assembled, a single piece element 12 forming the entire base plate with the base plate having a peripheral edge (not numbered, but comprising one of the edges of element 24 as shown in figure 3) adapted to be attached to the inner edge of the inner panel, such that the peripheral edge makes contact with the inner edge so that the base plate wholly covers the central opening of the inner panel, a door glass 34, a belt line reinforcement 13.

Art Unit: 3634

Claims 1, 5, 6, 9-11, 13-16 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sakaguchi et al. Sakaguchi et al. discloses a door for a vehicle, comprising an outer panel 13, an inner panel 20, 21, 22 attached to the outer panel, the inner panel having a central opening (not numbered, but shown in figure 2) defined by an inner edge (not numbered, but shown in figure 2 adjacent the central opening), a base plate 40 to which at least a window regulator module 50 is assembled, a single piece element forming the entire base plate with the base plate having a peripheral edge (not numbered, but shown in figure 2) adapted to be attached to the inner edge of the inner panel, such that the peripheral edge makes contact with the inner edge (as shown in figure 3) so that the base plate wholly covers the central opening of the inner panel, the peripheral edge of the base plate 40 is attached to the inner edge of the inner panel 20, 21, 22 so as to cover the central opening from a vehicle compartment outer side of the inner panel as shown in figure 3, the central opening has a notched shape which gradually becomes narrower from an upper edge of the central opening toward a lower side of the central opening as shown in figure 2, a door glass 70, a belt line reinforcement 44.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3634

Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sakaguchi et al. as applied to claims 1, 5, 6, 9-11, 13-16 and 18 above, and further in view of Baldamus et al. Baldamus et al. disclose the use of screws 16 to attach an inner panel to a base plate.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Sakaguchi et al. with screws, as taught by Baldamus et al., to increase the ease of assembling the door.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed September 12, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to the applicant comments concerning Okamoto et al. and Sakaguchi et al., the examiner respectfully disagrees. Claim 1 has now been amended to set forth a "single piece element forming the entire base plate". Such a limitation does not prevent a reference that discloses a base plate comprising a plurality of components connected together from anticipating said limitation. The plurality of components form a single piece element after they have been connected together to form an integral element that can be moved as a single component. Accordingly, both Okamoto et al. and Sakaguchi et al. disclose a base plate formed by a single piece element, i.e., the integral element formed by the plurality of components connected together. If the applicant should disagree with the examiner's interpretation of the new claim limitation and argue that the base plate is an integral one component part or homogenous part, such an argument would not be supported by the original disclosure and any amendments to the disclosure to support such an argument would constitute new matter. Finally, both Okamoto et al. and Sakaguchi et al. disclose a respective base plate covering the whole of each respective opening since each base plate extends continuously over the opening.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action.
